Summer Reading Kids Catch the Reading Bug

Summer Reading Program kids logged in over 100 hours of reading this summer, and had some fun in the process. A total of 174 people attended all weekly events, which included visits from Hart's Reptile World, Anne Marie Sterry (singer-storyteller), and entomologist Leah Spiegel. A picnic in the park with games and prizes concluded the summer activities. Sponsors for this year's program included Friends of Weston Library, Oregon Ready to Read Grant, and local donors.

Research shows that the key to maintaining reading skills is to get books into the hands of children during summer break. It has been suggested by experts that students who read as few as 6 books during the summer can maintain the skills learned during the previous year. A special thanks to all the volunteers whose talents make Summer Reading Program possible.
