Art on the Shelf Update

In May, 2015 we started a new program at the library called “Art on the Shelf.” Each month a featured artist’s work is on display in the library. The first exhibit was Elnora Baker’s beautiful roses, displayed in antique vases just in time for Pioneer Picnic.

In the past year, we have displayed paintings, drawings, wood sculpture, hand carved construction equipment, play houses, photographs, ceramics, stained glass, leather work, and pottery. Twelve months of local art has been enjoyed by library users and community members. The response has been very positive, recognizing our artists for their talents, imagination and skill.

Currently, we are displaying the photography of Vince Bator. These photographs feature hand-made frames and stories to accompany each picture.

Have you seen these awesome displays? Do you know an artist who would be interested in creating a library display? If so, call the library, and we will help you get in touch with our Art Exhibit Coordinator!
